5. HOMEWORK. Revisit session content from a different angle to consolidate our learning.

Module Goals

- Learn a gospel framework to help us better understand what God has done for us in Christ.
 - So that we continue to grow closer to God and more willing and able to glorify Him.
- Learn how to make connections between core gospel truths and everyday conversation.
 - So that we can naturally and organically nudge conversations to Jesus and the difference knowing Him makes.
- Pray for our family and friends who don't know Jesus yet.
 - So that they might share in knowing Jesus with us.

Session 8

Prayer and Intentionality

Making the most of our God-given opportunities to share Jesus. Prayerful and intentional relationships.

Session Introduction

Watch the introduction video for Session 8.

- What did you learn from Bronwen's experience of evangelistic conversations?
- What encouraged you about what Sam and Julie-anne said about Prayer and Intentionality?

God's story is the Gospel – that is, the Good News of Jesus. Christians have a God-given identity as children of God; an honest understanding of how we contribute to, and are harmed by, the world's brokenness; eternal security in Christ whatever circumstances face us in this life; and a sure hope that Jesus will return and restore our bodies, relationships, and world.

This Good News changes us. It is Good News that others need to hear.

Consider your homework exercise:

- Which gospel summary did you like most? Why?
- Did any make you feel uncomfortable? Why?
- What are the advantages and disadvantages of using a gospel summary?

Train

In this session, we circle back to where we started:

Because we loved you so much, we were delighted to share with you not only the gospel of God but our lives as well.

1 Thessalonians 2:8 (NIV)

Read Colossians 4:2-6 and 1 Peter 3:15-16.

1. What do these passages tell us about intentional conversations, which seek to share the gospel with people who are not Christian? Consider attitude, manner and content.

a. Colossians 4:2-6

b. 1 Peter 3:15-16.

These passages assume that the way we live and speak will lead people to ask questions about the Jesus we follow. For this to happen, we need to be involved in people’s lives and invite them to be involved in our lives. So that they can see and experience the difference that knowing Jesus can and does make, not just in our lives, but in the lives of Christians more generally.

Intentionality in on-going relationships

The following table invites you to think through ways you can deliberately and intentionally relate to people as a Christian who genuinely loves them. The first three rows are about spending time with people. The last three rows are about conversations with people. In real life the categories overlap.

Work through the following table with one of the people you have been praying for in mind. Try to come up with some specific ideas for how to progress your relationship and conversations prayerfully and intentionally.

	Me Individually	My Christian Community
Love: Acts of service. How can I show love to them in practical ways that they will appreciate?

Social: Casual and fun hangout. How can I spend time with them in everyday ways?
Community: Connecting them. How could I help them get to know my Christian friends?
Questions: Answering questions. How can I answer the questions they have about Jesus?
Jesus: Talking about Jesus. How can I introduce them to the life and teachings of Jesus?
Bible: Reading the Bible How can I encourage them to read the Bible for themselves?

Given what Jesus said about love and Christian community, connecting people to Christians and Christian community is significant. Inviting people to join you in Christian community is important. It gives people a variety of models of Christian living. It shows them the beauty of a community characterised by self-sacrificial love.

- Can you think of more reasons?

Spontaneous conversations

Not all our relationships are long-term. Sometimes you find yourself in conversations with a stranger, or with people you will only see a couple of times.

- What could prayerful intentionality look like for spontaneous and one-off conversations?
